We believe government should not only be exceptional in dealing digitally with the people it serves but should also at the forefront of using digital technology in all its systems so that it can deliver better public services. AC: Every stakeholder will be a spokesperson in some shape or form, whether you give them the permission to be one or not. So yes, I am a digital native. Soyese,Iamadigitalnative.We will not turn them into robots, parroting the same key messages in the same way over and over. Approach it in that order.
