WanttoReadsaving..Errorratingbook.FXXThur. Seek out a mentor at the station, and if you're fortunate to work with competent photogs, soak up all the advice they dispense. Have they actually worked in the field of journalism, or are they career students who have never stepped off a campus and teach nothing but theory? It's real world advice from a network broadcast journalist who's been on both sides of the fence as a reporter and a manager.

And, of course, how newsrooms value employee contributions is far from objective. A handy way to collect important slides you want to go back to later.
