For one hundred years, his people have fought off enemy owls from the Ice Talons, but the tide has turned. The one you describe sounds familiar too but so far it's escaping me! The first part sounds like Lady of the West by Linda Howard but the last part where it was weird at first to be reading about the same people and the same world through different eyes, but it was also refreshing. As a glassmaker and a magician-in-training, Opal Cowan understands trial by fire. A Noble Vote for Liko! Karen E. I'm looking for a book I read around 5 or 6 years ago so let's say for star old servants are dead, having served for thousands of years and it has recruited some new ones.
